

PENNSTATE

Cooperative Extension
in Allegheny County

Burgh Bees Beekeeping in the Classroom 102 March 10, 2012

Where: Penn State Extension of Allegheny County
400 North Lexington Street
Pittsburgh, PA 15208-2585
(412) 473-2540

When: This is a one day class to be held on: Saturday, March 10th 8:00 am to 2:30 pm. Space is limited, please register early.

Description: This classroom-based course offers new beekeepers detailed information on what to expect the second year of beekeeping. The course will include: an overview of seasonal management issues, with strong focus on swarm management. The goal is for students to learn how to maximize hive health and productivity. For more information, email BurghBees@gmail.com

Instructors: Steve Repasky, Master Beekeeper and Burgh Bees Community Apiary Director
Joseph Zgurzynski, Master Beekeeper and President of Burgh Bees

Prerequisites: Burgh Bees Beekeeping in the Classroom 101 or equivalent, and at least one season beekeeping experience. Exceptions at the discretion of the instructor.

Textbook: Honey Bee Biology and Beekeeping, by Dewey Caron. The purchase of this book is included in the course fee. Chapters 9, 10, 14, 15, and 16 should be read before class.

Exam: Brief quiz at the end of the session, graded in class by students.

Course Fee: $90, includes lunch and the required text book which will be mailed to students after registration.

Refunds: Full refund up to one week before class, 50% credit toward a future class if notice that a student is unable to attend is received less than one week before the start of the class.

Payment: To register for this class, please send a check payable to Burgh Bees to:

Burgh Bees - Beekeeping 102, Penn State Extension, 400 North Lexington Street, Pittsburgh, PA 15208-2585

Name: _____

Address _____

City/State/Zip _____

Email _____

Phone _____

Number of Years of Experience _____

Prior Class Title and Date _____

Burgh Bees is an all volunteer organization working in partnership with Penn State Cooperative Extension
"To educate beekeepers and promote beekeeping as a vital part of sustainable agriculture in Pittsburgh and its suburbs."